

Center for Urban and Multicultural Education's Arts4Learning: Evaluation of an Early Childhood Arts Education Program

Joshua Smith, IU School of Education; Ashley Rittenhouse, Jerry Guillot, CUME Student Researchers, and Ploi Pagdalian, Young Audiences of Indiana

CUME is a research center located in the Indiana University School of Education at Indianapolis focused on (1) Engaged Urban Teaching and Learning, (2) Community-Campus Connections/Translational Research, (3) Academic Access and Success in Urban Contexts, and (4) Urban Curriculum Research. The Arts4Learning project embodies several CUME initiatives as it infuses arts education with literacy skills and reaches out to students in both Indianapolis and Lafayette.
